Introduction

At Elmridge Primary School we are committed to providing a caring, friendly and safe environment for all of our pupils so they can learn in a relaxed and secure atmosphere. Elmridge Primary School has a zero tolerance to bullying and we will take all forms of bullying seriously. Pupils and parents should be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported. The school will seek ways to counter the effects of bullying that may occur within school or in the local community. The ethos of fosters high expectations of outstanding behaviour and we will challenge any behaviour that falls below this. The school will implement an active and effective approach to identify and address all forms of bullying and will take effective steps to ensure that all pupils are happy, secure, confident and free from any form of bullying or harassment in order to thrive and succeed.

Aims and objectives

Bullying is wrong and damages children. We therefore do all we can to prevent it, by developing an ethos in which bullying is regarded as unacceptable.

We aim, as a school, to produce a safe and secure environment where all can learn without anxiety, and measures are in place to reduce the likelihood of bullying.

This policy aims to produce a consistent school response to any bullying incidents that may occur.

We aim to make all those connected with the school aware of our opposition to bullying, and we make clear each person's responsibilities with regard to the eradication of bullying in our school.

Types of bullying

There is no legal definition of bullying

At Elmridge it is considered as behavior that is:

- repeated
- intended to hurt someone physically or emotionally
- often aimed at certain groups for example because of race, religion, gender or sexual orientation

Several types of bullying exist, all of which are abhorrent to the school including:

- Emotional – Being unkind or unfriendly, tormenting or excluding
- Physical – Pushing, kicking, hitting or punching
- Verbal – Teasing, name-calling, or spreading untrue rumours
- Racial – Calling names on account of someone's colour or culture
- Cyber - Using texts, phone calls, photos or social networking sites

All teachers and staff working within the school will take special efforts to know individual pupils within their school setting and will take suitable action to protect their wellbeing, developing systems to promote this.

Pupils will be encouraged to report incidents of bullying: these will be immediately investigated and recorded in the central incident record. Direct action will be taken against bullying, in line with our agreed policies and procedures.

Prevention

The school will minimise bullying by:

- promoting a school ethos which encourages positive attitudes towards others and emphasises that every pupil is valued, irrespective of age, gender, ethnic background or academic attainment;
- providing a safe and stimulating environment in which children can work and play;
- adults providing positive role models;
- communicating school's anti-bullying culture in all schools through special events

Anti-bullying code:

At Elmridge, we believe that every child has the right to work and play in a safe and happy environment. We therefore believe that bullying has no place whatsoever in our schools.

We all agree:

- That we will do everything we can to be friendly and kind to other people.
- To only say kind things to one another to avoid hurting anyone's feelings.
- To be honest and not see trouble when none was intended.
- To make everyone feel included by sharing in our games and activities.
- To respect each other's belongings and property.
- To treat others how we wish to be treated.
- To be responsible for our own actions.
- Not to push or touch anyone else.
- To resolve any type of bullying by telling an adult straight away even if we are not the person being bullied.

Procedure

1. Report all incidents of bullying immediately to a member of staff.
2. This will be immediately investigated and recorded.
3. Most suspected bullying incidents will be reported to parents and depending on the severity of the incident, they will be invited to attend a meeting.
4. If necessary and appropriate, police will be consulted.
5. An attempt will be made to help the bully (bullies) change their behaviour.

Outcomes

1. The bully (bullies) may be asked to genuinely apologise. Other consequences may be implemented e.g. restricting the bully / bullies' participation in social or extra-curricular activities.
2. In serious cases, suspension or even exclusion will be considered.
3. After the incident / incidents have been investigated and dealt with, each case will be monitored to ensure repeated bullying does not take place.
4. Any bullying outside of school (e.g. via the internet or mobile phones) will be investigated by the school and dealt with accordingly. Parents will be notified if their child is involved.

Roles and responsibilities

Such is the importance and abhorrence of bullying, that all members of our school community have important roles to prevent or deal with bullying.

A. Governors

The governing body of each school within Bright Futures Educational Trust supports its Head of School in all attempts to eliminate bullying from school. The governing body will not condone any bullying at all and any incidents of bullying that do occur will be taken very seriously, and dealt with appropriately.

The governing body monitors incidents of bullying that do occur and reviews the effectiveness of this policy regularly. The governors require the Head of School to keep accurate records of all incidents of bullying and to report on request about the effectiveness of school anti-bullying strategies.

A parent who is dissatisfied with the way the school has dealt with a bullying incident can ask the chair of governors to look into the matter. The governing body will respond within ten days to any request from a parent to investigate incidents of bullying. In all cases the governing body notifies the Head of School and asks for an investigation to be conducted and to report back to the governing body.

B. The Head of School

It is the responsibility of the Head of School to implement the school's anti-bullying strategy and ensure that all staff (teaching and non-teaching) are aware of the school policy, and know how to identify and deal with incidents of bullying. The Head of School reports to the governing body about the effectiveness of the anti-bullying policy on request.

The Head of School ensures that all children know that bullying is wrong, and that it is unacceptable behaviour in this school, in assemblies and in classroom teaching.

The Head of School ensures that all staff, including lunchtime staff, receive sufficient training to be equipped to identify and deal with all incidents of bullying.

The Head of School sets the school climate of mutual support and praise for success, so making bullying less likely. When children feel they are important and belong to a friendly and welcoming school, bullying is far less likely to be part of their behaviour.

C. Teachers and support staff

All staff at Elmridge take all forms of bullying seriously and will work hard to prevent it from taking place.

Teachers keep their own records of all incidents that happen in their class, and that they are aware of in the school. If teachers witness an act of bullying, they will investigate it themselves or refer it to a senior member of staff. Teachers and support staff do all they can to support the child who is being bullied.

In every classroom there is a Warning Book which is the responsibility of the class teacher to complete with dates, times and incident details recorded. Incidents of bullying will also be recorded on CPOMs. We also record incidents that occur near the school, or on the children's way between school and home. Any adult who witness an act of bullying must record it in the warning book and on CPOMs.

If a child is repeatedly involved in bullying other children the Head of School will invite the child's parents into the school to discuss the situation. Where these initial discussions have proven ineffective, the Head of School may contact external support agencies.

All members of staff participate in training which equips them to identify bullying and to follow school policy and procedures with regard to behaviour management.

Teachers use a range of methods to help prevent bullying and to establish a climate of trust and respect for all. The Elmridge School values of friendship, respect, unity, aspiration and courage play a key role in creating a culture where bullying is not tolerated. Drama, role-play, stories etc., are used within lessons, to help pupils understand the feelings of bullied children, and to practise the restraint required to avoid lapsing into bullying behaviour. Whole school and class collective worship is used to praise, reward and celebrate the success of all children, and thus to help create a positive atmosphere.

D. Parents and Carers

Parents, who are concerned that their child might be being bullied, or who suspect that their child may be the perpetrator of bullying, should contact their child's class teacher immediately. If they are not satisfied with the response, they should contact the Head of School. If they remain dissatisfied, they should follow the Trust's complaints procedure.

Parents have a responsibility to support the school's anti-bullying policy, actively encouraging their child to be a positive member of the school.

E. Pupils

Pupils are encouraged to tell anybody they trust if they are being bullied, and if the bullying continues, they must keep on letting people know.

Pupils are invited to tell us their views about a range of school issues, including bullying, in pupil questionnaires.

Monitoring and review

This policy is monitored on a day-to-day basis by the Head of School, who report to governors on request about the effectiveness of the policy.

This anti-bullying policy is the governors' responsibility and they review its effectiveness regularly. They do this by examining the school's incident logbook, where incidents of bullying are recorded, and by discussion with the Head of School.

Governors analyse information for patterns of people, places or groups. They look out in particular for racist bullying, or bullying directed at children with disabilities or special educational needs

The implementation of this policy will be monitored by the Heads of School, who will make a regular report to the Local Governing Body of that school.
